

This hay field received an accidental spray of a commercially available blend of MCPA and bromoxynil.

Following a decline of the field and the realization of the extent of the accident, the Petrik Consultants from Boyle Fertilizer of Rigby, Idaho were acting in quickness of mind, expertise, and experience by immediately applying a foliar of Petrik's SetBest™, a rooting and destressing material, and Petrik's Impulse Molybdenum and Cobalt nutrients; a small amount of other mixed nutrients was also applied at same time.

A strip was left out to be able to show the grower the full effect of the Advanced Action Agriculture™ treatment. Two weeks later the hay receiving the treatment was thriving once again.

Not only did Petrik innovations and the trained expertise of the consultants simply help the field, but also saved the grower from a very significant monetary loss.
